Thriving businesses want more, and that is our focus at Western Alliance. We are proud to be a relationship-centered bank that puts client needs first with expert bankers, strong capacity, access to decision-makers, sophisticated products, customized solutions, and a real commitment to adding value.
MORE COMMITMENT

Thank you for taking the time to review this report and learn how more at Western Alliance can work for you. Our core purpose is to provide deposit and credit solutions to businesses. We deliver through a team of knowledgeable and empowered bankers committed to providing personalized and responsive service that translates into long-lasting relationships.

As our Company continues to grow and evolve, our key corporate values remain constant:
- We place honesty, transparency, and integrity with our customers, co-workers, and regulators at the top.
- We view ourselves as a trusted partner with our customers.
- We strive to bring more passion and care to our customers than our competitors.
- We want to make a difference in the communities we serve.

The year 2016 was one of strong performance for Western Alliance. Financially we had more growth across the board: loans, deposits, capital, earnings and customers. Total assets increased 20% to $17.2 billion. This growth was supported by an increase of $500 million or 31% in regulatory capital. Our deposits and loans grew by 21% and 19%, respectively, during the year. Net income was $260 million and $2.50 per share compared to $193 million and $2.03 per share in 2015. Our 23% earnings per share growth, return on tangible common equity of 17.71%, return on assets of 1.61%, and 21% increase in tangible book value per share, combined to put us in the upper echelon of peers in terms of operating performance and were the basis for another excellent year for our shareholders.

Looking forward to 2017, we are focused on: continuing to innovate with our customers in mind, investing in our employees, outworking our competition, adding value to our customers and shareholders, and being a great community asset.

I wish to thank our employees who volunteered to tell our story of more in this report as well as the 1,500 other dedicated employees who I get to work with every day. I’m appreciative of our talented and supportive Board of Directors that has provided us with oversight, guidance and vision.

Finally, the biggest thank you is to our customers who confide in us to be their trusted partner in business.

Sincerely,

Robert G. Sarver

- Added 100 more dedicated bankers to serve you and three more strategic offices: Atlanta, Menlo Park and San Francisco.
- Implemented a comprehensive upgrade of our core data processing platform. During the fourth quarter I know this conversion caused disruption and a need for training for some of our customers. For this, I apologize. However, with these changes we are moving forward with enhanced user functionality, cybersecurity and product offerings.
- Provided more to our underserved communities, including:
  - Originating $180 million in community development loans.
  - Making $28 million in new community investments and donations.
  - Donating 10,000 hours of employee volunteer time to community organizations.
  - Originating 31% of our small business loans in low- and low-to-moderate income areas.

Strategically, during 2016, we:
- Purchased General Electric’s domestic, limited service, hotel franchise finance business. This acquisition provided $1.3 billion in loans to Western Alliance, added a team of 20 talented bankers and brought us a great portfolio of new customers.
“Looking forward to 2017, we are focused on: continuing to innovate with our customers in mind, investing in our employees, outworking our competition, adding value to our customers and shareholders, and being a great community asset.”

Excelling at What We Do

“The key to our consistently strong results, which stand out among peer institutions, is a culture centered around people. Western Alliance does more because of the elevated level of passion and expertise among our employees,” says Dale Gibbons, Chief Financial Officer, Western Alliance Bancorporation. “One way customers experience this is more direct access. If the Credit Committee needs to meet, it meets. If a client needs to talk with the CEO, it happens. We have a real desire to do things better and provide solutions for our clients’ financial needs.”

Smart Analytics Power
Better Decision-making

Better, faster and more efficient banking decisions for clients – that is what Dan Harach and his team think about every day. Critically, Harach, like most everyone at Western Alliance, is a “doer” as well as a thinker. In his case, putting great ideas into action meant creating a sophisticated set of tools to analyze aggregate risk for individual clients, separate portfolios or whole divisions, as big or small as the situation demands. His entrepreneurial efforts have led to more profound and readily available insights that have boosted analysis for decisions across the organization. All of this translates to faster loan decisions for clients, an important pillar of Western Alliance’s brand promise.

“We’ve developed systems that are helping our bank to be even more nimble and responsive – and that’s really the story of Western Alliance. Our bankers get out and lead, they are able to anticipate opportunities. The work we do behind the scenes is just another example of the bank’s culture of getting out ahead of expectations.”

Dan Harach, SVP
Loan Portfolio Analyst Manager
Western Alliance Bank
“We’ve developed agile resources that will benefit Western Alliance for years to come. That is exciting.”
Investments to Enhance the Customer Experience

Western Alliance in 2016 successfully completed a comprehensive technology conversion to power our banking business with a single, state-of-the-art system designed to deliver more for our clients. We invested in a solution with an outstanding track record in the industry that brings our employees and clients advanced products and services — along with a modern banking experience.

Connecting every division and national business line across the bank, this one platform provides our clients and employees with banking tools and innovative products that deliver added convenience, enhanced security and high-quality service.

Key benefits to customers include improved online banking, faster access to data and streamlined interfaces — in addition to the essential deliverable of enhanced security so necessary in today’s business environment. All of this paves the way for new mobile banking in 2017.

For Western Alliance, this investment in our new system yields a more flexible, responsive tool for managing our growing businesses. Importantly, this dynamic platform will accommodate the bank’s growth going forward.

“Understanding more about what customers want is essential to how we approach our markets. Innovative technology is bringing us new insights about our clients and their priorities.”

Ryan Barringer, SVP
Division Marketing Director
Bridge Bank and Torrey Pines Bank
Janelle Miller and her team were on the frontlines of the 2016 system conversion preparing people across the company to support a technology transition for customers. “Our customers have been asking for a more robust online banking system. While there are always challenges with any conversion, we were there to resolve them. The new platform is more modern, more user-friendly and we’re hearing positive feedback from customers.”

Janelle Miller, AVP
Treasury Management Application Support
Western Alliance Bank

“...The culture of our bank is really what makes outstanding customer service possible. We have great products and technology that’s always getting better, but it’s relationships that matter even more.”

Laura Villagomez, VP

First Independent Bank
Real Responsiveness is a Real Differentiator

Steve Black understands that, for every customer, their business is what matters most. That’s one reason many say he is the best SBA lender in San Diego County. Responsiveness goes beyond getting back to someone right away – it’s putting the full power and resources of a top banking organization to work for clients in ways they might not know they need. “If a customer has a great project, even if their presentation doesn’t do it justice, we often can see the possibilities,” says Black. “We have tremendous strategic capabilities to look for solutions that make a real difference for customers. And we do it in a timely manner.”

At Torrey Pines Bank – and all the divisions of Western Alliance – responsiveness is a team sport. “I’m always impressed with the quality of our people. We attract ‘A’ players and everyone rolls up their sleeves to succeed for clients. That’s a big part of how we get well-crafted loan packages over the finish line.” For Black, this rare combination of hard work, expertise and flexibility is the essence of the bank’s commitment.

Steve Black, SVP
Senior Business Development Officer
Torrey Pines Bank
“Customers are looking for a quick and thoughtful turnaround, because they are moving quickly to capitalize on opportunities. Our responsiveness is the quality our customers value most.”
MORE CAPABILITIES

Our highly specialized National Business Lines add demonstrable value – because businesses benefit from bankers who are as grounded in their worlds as they are. At each of our 10 National Business Lines, Western Alliance experts provide thorough, customized and current solutions for clients across the country.

Western Alliance’s sharply focused business lines are centered around deep expertise in tech-sector lending and other specialty banking geared to enterprises of all kinds including hotel operations, mortgage banking, nonprofit entities and municipalities, homeowner associations, timeshare developments and more. Paired with our superior service and dedication to understanding the unique goals and opportunities of every individual client, our niche National Business Lines do more for customers.

According to Monika Suarez, lending in the public sector is known to be an impersonal process. But things are different at Western Alliance, where customers know who their lenders are and benefit from true relationships. “One of the aspects I find so personally and professionally fulfilling about what I do for Western Alliance is that we provide so much more than just financial resources – we develop a full understanding of what our customers are trying to accomplish and can suggest other strategic partners. We add real value by collaborating in ways that help municipalities and nonprofits further their missions.”

Monika Suarez, SVP Municipal Finance Director Public and Nonprofit Finance
Corporate Finance, like much of Western Alliance, takes the time to dig deeper to find benefits for both customers and the bank. “We have the ability to do larger, complex syndications which helps us grow with our customers.”

Roham Medifar, VP
Credit Research Analyst
Corporate Finance

“Like most large financial institutions, we have prudent credit standards. What differentiates Western Alliance is we listen to individual customer needs, and are not afraid to roll up our sleeves and do the work to come up with strategic, unique solutions to help customers meet their goals and still feel good about our position as a lender.”

David Bernard, SVP
Senior Loan Officer
Mortgage Warehouse Lending
Alliance Association Bank
Catering to the growing HOA industry nationwide, our bankers offer clients innovative solutions to reduce costs and increase revenues. Providing deposit and lockbox services, remote deposit and a broad selection of specialized loan products, Alliance Association Bank is a targeted resource for this industry.

Corporate Finance
Our team of leading professionals participates in larger secured loans, serving a diverse set of corporate clients in sectors including retail, healthcare, consumer products, chemicals, cable/data, business services, transportation/automotive, industrial and more.

Equity Fund Resources
This financing nexus for the Venture Capital and Private Equity communities offers sophisticated banking services and solutions, including capital call lines and management company flexibility lines, along with other innovative financing for general partners.

Hotel Franchise Finance
New to the Western Alliance family in 2016, our group of nationally recognized experts in financing select-service and extended-stay hotels in U.S. markets provides lending solutions for a full range of project needs: acquisitions, renovations, expansions, ground-up construction and refinancings.

Life Sciences Group
The highly specialized team provides term and revolving credit facilities to life sciences companies – biotechnology, medical device and pharmaceutical – including growth capital, working capital, refinancing, restructuring, recapitalization, as well as mergers and acquisitions.

“Our clients value and often rely upon our expertise. It is common for our customers to reach out to us much earlier in the project cycle to get our input before they even put a loan package together.”

A Story of Personal Growth

With eight promotions in 16 years – from Customer Service Representative to Senior Vice President – Vinetta De La Cruz now oversees two offices for Bank of Nevada, and nurtures hundreds of important customer relationships. Her story demonstrates how Western Alliance doesn’t just support client businesses, it also supports flourishing careers. “If you would have told me this would have been my path, I wouldn’t have believed it. One of the greatest things about our bank is opportunity,” says De La Cruz. “We do an excellent job of identifying people’s strengths and then giving them a chance to grow professionally.”

Her view: The bank’s investment in talented people ups the yield for customers, who benefit from highly engaged, expert bankers. “I know my customers – what keeps them up at night, what their greatest fears and achievements are, and their next big milestones.” Clearly, strong and enduring relationships define Western Alliance, both for customers and, as De La Cruz points out, “for employees right here at home...The motivation is so much more than compensation. It’s also about empowerment.”

“We do more to earn your business. We do more to retain your business. And we do more to protect your business. This same concept applies to how we treat our employees.”
MORE EXPERTISE

Our Bankers Set Us Apart

Across the industries, professions and sectors that drive the economy, knowledgeable bankers can make a remarkable difference. Western Alliance bankers draw on significant, industry-specific experience to provide thoughtful business counsel alongside powerful products tailored to meet the demands of our clients and an ever-changing business environment. Our real commitment to understanding individual businesses, fueled by hard-to-match industry expertise, results in meaningful banking relationships.

“There is an entrepreneurial side of this bank – they hire knowledgeable people and empower them to create new products and services for customers. There are so many subject matter experts here to help you learn new things.”

Kathy Cosio, SVP Internal Audit Director Western Alliance Bank

The bank’s chief real estate appraiser understands that Western Alliance is built on customer relationships and timely decisions. The job of Gregg Baker and his team is to use their independence and expertise to solve complex, often unique, problems and deliver resolute valuation and environmental answers. “Our corporate culture encourages our team to ask substantive questions, exercise intellectual curiosity, and assist our lending groups and executive management in making timely, smart decisions.”

Gregg Baker, SVP Chief Real Estate Appraiser Western Alliance Bank

“When clients call, they talk with experts who can solve their issues quickly. Everyone takes responsibility. It’s not only that we know what we are doing, it’s also that we are completely dedicated to customer service.”

Bella BetSayad, VP Treasury Management Bridge Bank
Stretching to Do More Builds Performance

“I do more here in this job than I could have dreamed of doing at a law firm or a big bank.” For Jessica Jarvi, who works on corporate transactions, acquisitions, offerings, corporate governance, human resources and more, the impact she is able to have is clear. “Anyone who has been here for a while has been asked to stretch and do something that’s new for them. It builds confidence to tackle something completely new and see its results.”

In Jarvi’s estimation, a flat organization is a difference maker. “One thing that says a great deal about our bank is that everyone is accessible. This is meaningful – we are available to talk to our internal clients every day, and I know this is exactly what our bankers do with customers. There’s more direct contact, less bureaucracy and fewer layers. Western Alliance has so many high-quality people, and part of the reason they thrive here is the ability to positively influence the organization.”

Jessica Jarvi, SVP
Deputy General Counsel
Western Alliance Bank
“I think it’s important to work for an organization that is locally committed and involved. Across the board, the bank supports education – from high-level policy to hands-on tutoring – and the bank is very supportive of my volunteer work with First Things First, Arizona’s early childhood initiative.”

Strengthening Communities

Western Alliance is deeply committed to giving back to the communities where we do business, working with purpose to improve quality of life. Our goal is to help build healthy communities through leadership in education, support for affordable housing, community development lending and investments, as well as a variety of grants and initiatives. Western Alliance employees embrace this philosophy by dedicating their time and expertise, often in leadership roles, to charitable and civic organizations across our markets.
Natalie Do brings the same enthusiasm and engagement to her community involvement as she does to her work with clients at Torrey Pines Bank’s Beverly Hills office. A Certified Financial Planner® and a seasoned banker, Do also serves as Chair of the advisory board for the GRYD Foundation and Committee Chair of the Annual Los Angeles Financial Planning Day. “The bank encourages us to be altruistic in meaningful ways, which perfectly fits with my personal values.”

Barbara Earnest, SVP

Innovating with Superior Service for Tech Markets

For Dan Pistone, developing productive niches in technology banking powered by an unusually high level of service for clients is a truly creative enterprise. In helping to lead the four National Business Lines that together comprise Western Alliance’s Innovation Group – Technology, Equity Fund Resources, Life Sciences and Renewable Resources – he revels in assembling teams of entrepreneurial, best-in-class bankers. “We attract top people by engaging them in the creative process of building their own focused businesses, something they wouldn’t have the opportunity to do at a large, money-center bank. Interestingly, this emphasis on more responsibility and leadership also has a positive impact for clients.”

In the Innovation Group, bankers have more empowerment, more engagement and more authority – very much like the technology companies they bank. “Western Alliance’s resources give us a platform to continue building a brand that people in our space see as a premium brand,” says Pistone. “What’s important is that we not only provide the full suite of products, capacity and expertise that growing technology companies all over the country need, but in a way that leads with the hands-on, personalized customer service Western Alliance stands for.”

Dan Pistone, SVP
Business Line Director
Bridge Bank
“There is a creative aspect to building something from the ground up, and I find this motivates some of the industry’s best bankers to join our group.”

International banking solutions are important to clients with global operations, and Western Alliance offers cutting-edge products – along with high-touch customer service – that align with customer needs. Brian Simonson helped design the tools and infrastructure that smooth the way for clients, wherever they do business. "We work with sophisticated companies that need not only the right lending facility but also other innovative techniques to optimize transactions and mitigate risk. Our international banking solutions deliver all of this with a better client experience.”

Brian Simonson, SVP
Regional Manager
Bridge Bank

“The typical job description for an underwriter is to sit at a desk and analyze details. But at our bank, we’re encouraged to meet our clients, so customers know they can call the loan officer, or me, or anyone on the team – because they know us.”
