Bank Also Commits $1 Billion in Loan Capacity to Help Small Businesses and Homeowners Rebuild in Impacted Areas

PHOENIX--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Western Alliance Bank (NYSE: WAL) today announced it is donating $100,000 to the American Red Cross to help support people and communities impacted by the devastating Southern California wildfires.

This donation comprises funds from the Western Alliance Community Foundation, the charitable arm of Western Alliance Bank, as well as employee contributions, which the Bank is matching.

Western Alliance also announced that it is dedicating $1 billion in loan capacity to support small businesses and homeowners with owner-occupied construction loans to help rebuild impacted areas.

“Western Alliance Bank is committed to supporting relief efforts in Southern California, where people and communities are facing devastating losses from the wildfires,” said Dale Gibbons, Interim CEO and CFO of Western Alliance Bank. “Our hearts are heavy right now. Southern California is a significant part of our enterprise – Western Alliance and our divisions employ thousands of people, and work with thousands of customers, across this hard-hit region. In addition to supporting crucial relief efforts now, what comes after the disaster also is critically important: Western Alliance Bank is dedicating $1 billion in loan capacity to help rebuild impacted areas.”

About the American Red Cross

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides comfort to victims of disasters; supplies about 40% of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; distributes international humanitarian aid; and supports veterans, military members and their families. The Red Cross is a nonprofit organization that depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to deliver its mission.
